

Kévin Delannoy

CAPTAIN

After graduating with a Master's degree in Nautical Sciences, Kévin consolidated his theoretical knowledge with a series of practical experiences with the prestigious Compagnie du Ponant. For several years, he had the opportunity to explore the world's oceans on board the company's ships, acquiring invaluable expertise in the maritime field.

He also embarked aboard the yachts Attimo and L'Albatros, where he was able to put his skills into practice even more intensely.

These experiences exposed him to a variety of challenges, enabling him to develop the versatility and adaptability that are essential in this demanding environment.

By working in the maritime sector, Kévin has found a perfect balance between his passion and his work, enabling him to fulfil his potential to the full. He is now the skipper of Spirit Of Ponant.

What do you like to do outside work?

Being a skipper is one of the best ways for me to combine my passion for sailing and my work. And it also allows me to travel.

What is your best sailing memory?

My best sailing memory is on the yacht "Le Ponant" during a night watch off Cuba.

Why did you decide to do the work you do today?

In my spare time, I enjoy a lot of water sports, but I also like to get away from it all on land when I go hiking.
